David Wardrop

Nomination submitted by UNA London & South-East Region

David Wardrop has served UNA-UK for many years in numerous capacities. He is currently Chair of the Westminster branch, one of UNA-UK's largest and most active branches.

In this role, David has worked tirelessly for the aims of the UN and its Charter, and to raise the profile of UNA-UK. He has been pivotal in instigating the annual conference at the Royal United Services Institute to mark the International Day for UN Peacekeepers, which is followed by a moving ceremony at the Cenotaph in Whitehall – a seminal event that receives national media coverage each year. He is also responsible for establishing the 'We the Peoples' Film Festival and the prestigious Ruth Steinkraus-Cohen International Law Lectures – two other landmark events on the UNA London & South-East Region calendar.

David also makes a key contribution to the London & South-East Region, for example, in helping to organise last year's conference on climate change at the International Maritime Organization (April 2009).
